INTRODUCTION TO

NUCLEAR SCIENCE ABSTRACTS

A Publication of the United States Atomic Energy Commission, Technical Information Service

The printing of this publication has been approved by
The Director of the Bureau of the Budget, August 2, 1951

Nuclear Science Abstracts is issued twice monthly throughout the calendar year by the Atomic Energy Commission. It is intended primarily to serve scientists and engineers working within the Atomic Energy Project by abstracting as completely and as promptly as possible the literature of nuclear science and engineering. It covers not only the unclassified and declassified research reports of the Atomic Energy Commission and its contractors, but also material in its field of interest which appears in technical and scientific journals and unpublished research reports of government agencies, universities, and industrial research establishments.

DECLASSIFICATION

Issuing of these Abstracts does not constitute authority for declassification of any reports.

INDEXES

Nuclear Science Abstracts is fully indexed by author, subject, and report number. Annual index issues are prepared for each volume, and the next cumulated index will appear in volume 10(1956) covering volumes 5-10. A cumulated index to volumes 1-4 was issued as volume 4, No. 24B, Dec. 30, 1950 covering authors, subjects, nuclides, and report numbers. The 24th number of volumes 5 and 6 contain indexes covering the individual volumes and a completely cumulated Numerical Index of Reports.

Each issue of volume 7(1953) contains an author index to abstracts in that issue and a supplement to the Numerical Index of Reports. Subject and author indexes as well as a cumulation of the Numerical Index of Reports, covering three-month periods are issued as supplements to the sixth, twelfth, and eighteenth issues. The 24th issue is the annual index for the year, superseding the three index supplements mentioned above.

AVAILABILITY

Nuclear Science Abstracts is available as single copies (25 cents each for regular issues; 60 cents for the annual index issue) or by subscription ($6.00 a year domestic; $8.00 a year foreign) from the Superintendent of Documents

U. S. Government Printing Office
Washington 25, D. C.

Subscribers should send change of address notices to the above address. Nuclear Science Abstracts is also available on an exchange basis to universities, learned societies, research institutions, industrial firms, and publishers of scientific information. The Atomic Energy Commission invites correspondence from such organizations looking toward the exchange of publications. Inquiries regarding such exchanges and other official distribution as well as notices of address changes for official and exchange recipients should be sent to:

AEC RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT REPORTS

How to Locate AEC Reports. The Reports Reference List appearing in each issue indicates the declassified and unclassified research reports which are abstracted in that issue of Nuclear Science Abstracts.

Information regarding other AEC reports which have been abstracted is available in the cumulative Numerical Index of AEC Reports in Nuclear Science Abstracts, Vol. 7, No. 24A, Dec. 31, 1953, and the supplements to this index in each subsequent issue.

Reports for Sale. Many of these reports are for sale by the Office of Technical Services, Department of Commerce, Washington 25, D. C. Prices for all of these items are indicated in the Numerical Index of Reports. Price lists for all items available for sale may be obtained upon request to the Office of Technical Services. Reports should be ordered by report number and title. A check or money order made payable to the Treasurer of the United States should accompany each order. Foreign purchasers of reports, other than those in Canada and Mexico, should include an additional amount for postage according to the scale that 4 pages approximate an ounce. Rates will vary for different countries. It will be the purchaser's responsibility to compute the necessary postage.

Reports Available Elsewhere. Many of these reports are, or will be, published in the scientific and technical journals, or in volumes of the National Nuclear Energy Series. The items already published are indicated in the Numerical Index of Reports.

Reports Not Published. AEC Reports for which no sale price or literature citation is given are obtainable on loan at the depository libraries. The complete series (NSF-tr) of National Science Foundation translations is also available at the depository libraries.

Non-AEC Reports. Reports prepared by organizations not under contract to the AEC should be requested from the issuing agency indicated in the citation. Authors and titles should be used as identification for reports numbered in the NP-series since these numbers are applied by the AEC for internal convenience only.

British reports (AERE-series, etc.) should be requested from one of the special depositories of British reports, the New York Public Library, Duke University, Durham, University of California General Library, Berkeley, and John Crerar Library in Chicago, or from

British Information Services
30 Rockefeller Plaza
New York, New York

General Information on Location of AEC Reports. If the AEC report number is known, the searcher should go directly to the Numerical Index of AEC Reports in NSA, Vol. 7, No. 24A, Dec. 31, 1953, or to the supplements appearing in later individual issues. If the AEC report number is not known, searching is aided by the annual or cumulated Subject and Author Indexes. The indexes refer to an abstract from which the report number may be noted, and the information regarding availability can then be obtained from the Numerical Index of Reports. Declassified reports numbered MDDC and AECD through 2023 are indexed in the separate, Declassified Documents Cumulated Index, and their abstracts appear in the forerunner to NSA, Abstracts of Declassified Documents. These publications as well as the first five volumes of NSA are now out of print but may be consulted at the AEC depository libraries.

BINDING INSTRUCTIONS

This issue of Nuclear Science Abstracts contains Title Pages, Binding Instructions, a Cumulative Table of Contents, an Author Index, and a Subject Index for Volume 7 and a Numerical Index of Reports listing the availability of reports abstracted in all seven volumes of Nuclear Science Abstracts and in the two volumes of its predecessor, Abstracts of Declassified Documents. In addition, there are lists of the Depository Libraries and published NNES volumes. The pagination of the cumulative indexes and of the lists is a continuation of the pagination of Volume 7.

In binding Volume 7, the Tables of Contents, Reports Reference Lists (numbered with Roman numerals), and the indexes which accompanied each number of Volume 7 should be discarded for they are superseded by the cumulations contained in this issue.

Three title pages have been provided so that the volume can be bound in one cover or in two covers for greater convenience in handling.

CUMULATIVE SUBJECT INDEX

The user of this subject index should bear in mind that subjects, rather than words, have been indexed. The indexer tries to select what to him seems to be the most probable and logical place to look for the information under consideration. Since it is not possible to know exactly where users of the index might look for certain items of information, numerous cross references are included to guide the user to other sources of information on related subjects. Thus, the user must decide what the indexer would consider to be the most appropriate index entries for specific items of information. This problem, however, is inherent in the preparation and use of any subject index and is not, in any sense, peculiar to the index of Nuclear Science Abstracts.

Generally, the direct form of subject entry is used in this index rather than inverted headings or, in some cases subheadings; e.g., Amino acids rather than Acids, amino; Helium isotopes He^4 rather than Helium — isotopes He^4 or Helium — He^4 isotopes. Note, however, that in some cases modifying terms are used parenthetically in preference to using a more direct type of entry which would result in the scattering of information; e.g., Sodium (liquid) rather than Liquid sodium. Organic compounds, on the contrary, are usually entered in the index in the inverted form so that substituted compounds are listed near the parent compound, e.g., Benzene, bromo- rather than Bromobenzene. In general, the style of nomenclature used is that of Chemical Abstracts except that some items listed there as subheadings are elevated to form part of the main heading, e.g., Butyric acid, ethyl esters rather than Butyric acid — ethyl esters. Salts of organic acids are indexed in a similar fashion.

Inorganic compounds are indexed in the direct form listing cations in the order of increasing valence in the case of polycationic salts of varying valence and in alphabetic order for polycationic salts in which all cations have the same valence; e.g., Sodium aluminum sulfates and Potassium sodium sulfates.

In general, any one specific item of information is entered in the index in every place where the user might probably look for it; e.g., an item on sodium–potassium alloys is entered under both Sodium–potassium alloys and Potassium–sodium alloys. A study of the effects of x radiation on hair will be found under both X radiation and Hair. Note, however, that if a dog has been used arbitrarily as the experimental animal, the information will not be found under Dogs as it is assumed that the same results would have been obtained in tests on other animals. Note also that papers are not usually entered under broad general headings; e.g., a paper on treatment of thyroid disease with I^{131} will be listed under Thyroid diseases and under Iodine isotopes I^{131}, but not under Radiotherapy.

Main headings are listed in alphabetic order. A parenthetic qualifier following a main heading is disregarded in alphabetizing unless there is more than one so that the modifier determines the order; e.g., Sodium, Sodium (gaseous), Sodium (liquid), Sodium acetates.

Descriptive phrases (modifiers) rather than ordinary subheadings are used under the main headings to give a better indication of the material covered in an abstract than would be possible with only a word or two. Such phrases are written so that the idea considered most important is presented first if this does not result in too awkward an expression. However, in searching the index it is advisable to scan all the modifiers under a main heading in order to determine which abstracts should be consulted for the desired information. Many of the modifiers are designed to be read in inverted order or to be read with the main heading inserted at the position of the comma in order to obtain a meaningful phrase; e.g., Uranium — allotropic transformation temperatures of, effect of cooling rate on is read "effect of cooling rate on allotropic transformation temperatures of uranium." Experience in using an index of this type will be the best guide in obtaining the desired information, and a consideration of synonymous, or nearly synonymous, terms will prove valuable.

The bold face number followed by a colon is the volume number, and the numbers following are the abstract numbers. The designation (R) following an abstract number indicates that it is an abstract of a progress report; the designation (J) indicates that it is an abstract of a journal (published literature) article; and the designation (P) indicates that it is an abstract of a patent. Abstract numbers for reports other than progress reports carry no letter designations.

NUMERICAL INDEX OF REPORTS

INTRODUCTION

Report numbers, references to specific abstracts, and, wherever possible, availability information for every report abstracted in Abstracts of Declassified Documents and Nuclear Science Abstracts through December 15, 1952, are given in this index. Terminology is defined in the glossary at the end of this introduction.

Availability information is given only opposite the primary report number. If the index is consulted by number and no availability information is found, the abstract should be consulted for the primary report number. If a report number is not found in this index, the author and subject indexes should be consulted to determine whether the report has been abstracted under a different report number. Such situations often occur in the case of declassified reports.

Reports are arranged alpha-numerically. Report numbers including such phrases as Bulletin No., Progress Report No., Report No., Research Paper No., and Technical Memo No. are not listed.

References to specific abstracts are listed opposite the corresponding report numbers. As abstracts were not numbered in ADD, the predecessor of NSA, only volume and page numbers are given for abstracts in ADD. Abstracts in NSA, however, are numbered; therefore, volume and abstract numbers are given for abstracts in NSA in the form 1-234.

Inquiries about reports originating in the Canadian and British atomic energy programs should be made to the appropriate information service of each country. The Canadian agency is the National Research Council, Information Services, Ottawa, Ontario, Canada. British reports (AERE-series, etc.) should be requested from one of the special depositories of British reports—the New York Public Library, Duke University, Durham, University of California General Library, Berkeley, and John Crerar Library, Chicago—or from British Information Services, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, New York. Reports of other foreign atomic energy agencies not generally available in this country may be obtained on loan from the Technical Information Service, Oak Ridge.

GLOSSARY

ADD

Abstracts of Declassified Documents, predecessor of NSA, published from July 1947 through June 1948. ADD in the availability column indicates that the entire paper, available at the time only in short form, has been reproduced in NSA. More complete reports or published literature articles received later are in many cases listed with references to the earlier short versions.

AECD

A code assigned to declassified reports released by the USAEC after February 29, 1948. This code and a sequential number usually replace the original report number for reference purposes. The AECD series begins with AECD-1780 and succeeds the MDDC series which ends with MDDC-1779.

AECU

A code assigned, up to AECU-871, to AEC unclassified reports which may or may not have had other approved codes. Since AECU-871, such numbers have been assigned only to reports which do not have other approved codes.

MDDC

A code assigned to declassified reports released by the Manhattan Engineer District and the USAEC before March 1, 1948. This code and a sequential number usually replace the original report number for reference purposes. The MDDC series ends with MDDC-1779 and is succeeded by the AECD series which begins with AECD-1780.

NNES

National Nuclear Energy Series, published by the McGraw-Hill Book Company, Inc., New York, New York.

NP

A file designation assigned by the Technical Information Service to nonproject reports whose codes, if present, are not practical for TIS use.

NSA

Nuclear Science Abstracts, successor to ADD. NSA in the availability column indicates that the entire paper, available at the time only in short form, has been reproduced in ADD. More complete reports or published literature articles received later are in many cases listed with references to the earlier short versions.

PRIMARY REPORT NUMBER

The report number by which the Technical Information Service catalogs and files a report.

REPORT NUMBER

An identification of a report, usually consisting of one or more letters and a sequential type of number. The report number may be assigned to a report by the issuing agency or by any recipient.

IDENTIFICATION OF ISSUING AGENCIES FOR REPORT NUMBER SERIES

1. No Identification

6. Non-AEC
Reports issued by organizations not officially connected with United States or foreign atomic energy projects.

7. Misc.
